

Vocabulary review:

Stella Pozo, Claudia Calvo, Andreas Strainu

1. The goal is to provide health care to as many people as possible
2. Are you going to the supermarket? We have run out of toilet roll
3. Teachers who wear Scruffy clothes to school are to face criticism in school inspectors'
4. Being truck driver is a tough job
5. We have just bought the plain tickets! i am looking forward to the holidays
6. London company requires a team player committed to quality management Team player -> Equipo.

job -> Trabajo.

To run out -> Quedarse sin algo.

To look forward to -> Ansias./esperar con muchas ganas.

To provide -> Proporcionar.

Scruffy -> Desaliñado.

PAST TENSES

Pasado simple , continuo, presente perfecto simple, presente perfecto continuo.

Past simple → acciones en el pasado que han sido terminadas. i played football yesterday.
actions in the past that have finished.

Continuo -> acciones en el pasado que han sido interrumpidas por otras. i was cooking when my friends called me.

Presente perfecto -> acciones que han pasado confluencia en el presente.

i have played computer.

he has eaten pizza.

S+ have/has + past participle ed/irregular verbs

Presente perfecto continuo -> acciones en el pasado donde nos enfocamos en la duración con consecuencia en el presente.

i have been waiting for you for two hours.

PAST TENSES
past simple vs present perfect

1. We have bought (buy) a new car recently
2. Tom has know (know) Kate since they were small children.
3. i bought (buy) a beautiful dress yesterday
4. we met (meet) jack in 1999 (acción que se acaba)
5. Jason has just done (just/do) his homework.
6. i did (do) my homework yesterday.